Real Nappy Incentive Scheme

By the time your baby is potty trained you could use 4,000 to 6,000 disposable nappies. Disposable Nappies will still be in the ground long after your child has grown and had children of their own and the full environmental effect of landfilling millions of nappies each year is not yet known. Modern "real nappies" are pretty much the same size and shape as disposables, fasten with velcro or poppers and can save you pounds during the period that your child is in nappies.

As part of our commitment to reducing the waste we send to landfill, Barnsley Council has introduced an incentive scheme to support residents who choose to use real nappies.

Please read the details of the scheme and then complete the form overleaf to claim your £40 assistance towards using real nappies.

What do I get?

The incentive scheme is open to residents of Barnsley Metropolitan Borough only.

The incentive consists of a £40 grant towards the purchase of a birth to potty pack of cloth nappies (minimum purchase price £100)

How to claim

Residents purchasing a birth to potty pack from any reputable supplier should complete the form overleaf within 6 months of purchasing the nappies.
